U.N. WAR CRIMES COMMISSION ARCHIVES

Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, urges, in the interest of justice and history, the opening to broader public access of the U.N. War Crimes Commission files. The files contain important information that would contribute to a fuller understanding of the Holocaust and facilitate the work of governmental agencies pursuing and prosecuting Nazi war criminals.

We commend the recent decisions of a majority of the countries represented on the War Crimes Commission, including our own government to support broader public access to the nearly 40,000 files of Nazi war criminals, suspects and witnesses.
