

SCHOOL VOUCHERS

Hadassah, the Women's Zionist Organization of America, has long opposed the use of publicly funded school vouchers or tuition tax credits for private and religious schools.

We uphold Hadassah National Board's 1983 policy statement Tuition Tax Credits that states, "...We believe that public financing of religious schools would endanger the principle of the separation of church and state and undermine the system of public education essential to a pluralistic democracy."

Hadassah will continue to work to ensure that neither Congress nor the states pass laws or constitutional amendments, that would threaten religious liberty, our public school system and our nation by infringing on the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment to the United States Constitution.
