

WHAT EXACTLY DOES ZIONISM MEAN TO YOU?

Aluf Benn

Chloé Valdary

Rabbi Donniel Hartman

Professor Susannah Heschel

This is a crucial conversation. That's why we launched Defining Zionism in the 21st Century, Hadassah's provocative video series. Each month, we add a new speaker, sharing diverse perspectives. All are available in easy-to-share mini segments, designed to start conversations.

Help create new norms around civil discourse and mutual respect in conversations about Zionism and Israel's future. These conversations will have the greatest impact if members and supporters like you watch, discuss, and share—via email, social media, or your living room.

Our July speaker, for example, is journalist Aluf Benn, editor-in-chief of Haaretz.

Benn talks about his deeply rooted Zionism, civil rights and why criticism goes hand in hand with democracy, and he shares his liberal, pragmatic approach to peace and making Israel stronger. Benn's Defining Zionism segments were filmed in front of a live audience on June 15 at Temple EmanuEl Skirball Center in Manhattan, with moderator Linda Scherzer, at an event presented in partnership with The Jewish Week.

Past recent speakers include:

- Rabbi Donniel Hartman: A new take on Israel, Zionism & America
- Prof. Susannah Heschel: Zionism Enhances Judaism Enhances Zionism
- Chloé Valdary: Zionism & Millennials

Whether you host a small discussion, a community event, or lead a conversation, we've got all the tools to engage others who, like you, care about the future of Israel.
