We are reading The Debt of Tamar by Nicole Dweck. The author will join us and the discussion will be led by Sarina Roffé.

Nicole Dweck holds a BA in Journalism and a Master's Degree in Global Affairs from NYU. When The Debt of Tamar, her debut novel, was self-published, it was a USA Today bestseller and received a fiction award from Writer's Digest. She lives in New York City with her husband and their son.

“The Debt of Tamar is an extraordinary book, at once a picaresque saga and a moral tale of reclamation. From its early chapters in 16th-century Iberia, it travels to Istanbul, Israel, and then New York, linking old worlds and new in ways that are astounding, yet believable. Nicole Dweck has a keen eye for human foibles and deep human strengths. But more than anything else, a sense of honor pervades this novel. This, and a deft authorial hand, whirl us through the centuries and into the present – and a wise, transcendent, and satisfying conclusion.” —Sonia Taitz, author of The Watchmaker's Daughter and Down Under

The book is available at the Brooklyn Public Library and book sellers, including Amazon.com.
