For over 100 years, Hadassah has healed the sick, made broken lives whole, given hope where there was none. We have reached out, building bridges to peace through medicine and research in Israel, the United States, and around the world. Each year, our extraordinary hospitals in Israel treat one million patients without regard to race, religion or nationality. Our doctors rush to aid victims of natural disasters wherever they are in the world. And our programs in the United States teach young and old and in-between how to lead healthier lives.
