This past March, I traveled to Israel for 10 busy days as part of the Hadassah Purim Mission. It was an awesome experience! Our group of 34 women and men from all over the US spent our entire trip with our Israeli guide, Yishay, and driver, Avi, along with two well-traveled and knowledgeable Mission lay leaders. Our experience was supplemented by the head of Hadassah Israel, Barbara Goldstein, "BG," who knows everyone and everything Hadassah. With six nights in Jerusalem and four in Tel Aviv, we got to see the highlights of Israel that most visitors see, with special emphasis on Hadassah's important projects.

Within minutes of our arrival, we gathered on the Mount of Olives to view Jerusalem and the Dome of the Rock, toast our arrival with wine and say the Shehechyanu before visiting the grave of Hadassah's founder, Henrietta Szold.

Going to the original Hadassah Hospital at Mt. Scopus and looking across the nearby hills to see the wall separating Israeli lands from Arab lands behind which stand the Palestinian villages (i.e: high rises) made me realize how close the danger is. Hadassah Hospital treats and employs all people regardless of religion, race, or country of origin. I am sure being a patient or employee at HMO is very coveted.

Our VIP visit to Hadassah Ein Kerem, a little outside Jerusalem, was beyond words. Several members of our mission from Santa Barbara and Detroit had brought large bags of home-made dolls and capes for the children. If anyone in Nashville would like to participate in a project like this, please let me know. Dr. Dimitrios Karussis, a leading researcher in ALS and MS, spoke to us about a recently completed clinical trial he directed where stem cells being injected directly into spinal fluid showed marked improvement in patient symptoms and is supposed to change treatment in this area forever.

While there, we were also treated to a symposium on ethical dilemmas in medicine presented by various nurses and doctors. The culminating speaker was Elyakim Rubenstein, former Israeli Supreme Court Justice. A gilded statue, called the "Cloak of Conscience," was unveiled on the campus and dedicated in his honor.

After viewing the recognition walls and pillars where many of us found our names, we traveled to the Youth Aliyah Village of Meir Shfeya. It looked like a rural boarding school with nice little classroom buildings, a theater and dorms which sit on acreage big enough to raise cows and grow wine which they bottle and herbs which they make into soaps and lotions. It not only gives disadvantaged youth a chance to be cared for and educated in a warm, close environment, but also gives them skills to be successful in life. The student academic scores at Meir Shfeya were ranked among the top in the country. Now, day students come from neighboring towns to receive that superior education. How proud we should all feel!

Hadassah sponsors many "Missions" throughout the year. Visit www.hadassah.org/missions for details. In addition to all the highlights of the country which every visitor must see, these missions will make you super-proud to be a Hadassah member (or spouse). In addition, through the generosity of the Madeline and Eugene Pargh Endowment Fund for the Nashville Chapter of Hadassah, starting in 2020, designated funds will be available to help defray the costs of a Hadassah Mission. If interested, please contact me asap as preference will be given to Board members and early birds.

Best Strokes Fundraiser for Breast Cancer and Genetic Research at Hadassah Hospital

By Erin Coleman and Sara Hanai, Co-Chairs

It is hard to express the sense of pride and awe we experienced on March 9, 2019. More than 15 months earlier, we came together with an idea to put on a gala to present canvases of breast cancer survivors' painted bare torsos in an effort to raise money for Hadassah's work to cure breast cancer forever. To see more than 200 people in the room at the Nashville City Club supporting Hadassah, learning about what Hadassah accomplishes every day and furthering their breast cancer programs by raising over $25,000 was humbling to us both.

When we started our journey, we thought that finding breast cancer survivors to model and artists to volunteer was going to be a challenge. With the help of the incomparable Robin Haynes, our goal was exceeded and we ended up with 15 models and paintings, and 13 artists. Paint Day was amazing. For the survivors it was a day of community love, strength and resilience. For the first time, their bodies, altered by cancer treatments, were the foundation for beautiful works of art. For the artists, the day represented an opportunity to use their creative gifts to create change not just in their model and themselves, but to leave their mark on the world through the funds raised by their work. The stories of the artists and models were incredibly moving. Though nervous in the beginning, they all stood with confidence and pride knowing that they were making a difference. It is a day all people involved will never forget.

Then we moved onto the Gala. What a night! We were both nervous as this was a first-time event and we weren't sure how the public would receive it. With the help of our tireless committee and the Hadassah board, we made phone calls, sent emails, and texts. We filled the Nashville City Club, a space beautifully designed by Dianne Berry. The silent auction of the canvases was supplemented by other non-framed pieces of art generously donated by community artisans. Our honoree, Dr. Ingrid Mayer, Leader and Clinical Director, Breast Cancer Research Program, Vanderbilt-Ingram Cancer Center, spoke about how far research has come and the impact programs like Hadassah's will have on the future of detection, treatment and life expectancy of those diagnosed with breast cancer.

In total, the night can only be seen as a tremendous success! Thanks to the generosity of our sponsors: Electronic Express, Delek Fund for Hope, Premier Radiology and Erin Coleman, Esq. as well as our many patrons, attendees and donors, we not only raised more than $25,000 for breast cancer research at Hadassah Hospital, we also introduced the work Hadassah does to more than 200 people in our Nashville community!

If you have not yet had a chance to donate to Breast Cancer and Genetic Research at Hadassah Hospital, you may still do so. Please send your check, marked "Best Strokes" made payable to Hadassah to: Beth Wise, 713 Palmetto Court, Brentwood, TN. 37027. Visit www.nashville-hadassah.pixels.com to purchase items such as phone cases, mugs and canvas bags created with the artwork of your choosing. A portion of the sales will be donated to Hadassah.

Kudos to the Life and Legacy Committee

Through the hard work of the Life and Legacy Committee over the past two years, our chapter has received 45 letters of intent from generous donors. If you have not already signed a Letter of Intent (LOI), we encourage you to inquire about doing so. If you have already signed a Letter of Intent, you may wish to consider adding Hadassah. Deana Goldstein, deanaegoldstein@gmail.com, will fill you in on the ways you can benefit our national organization, WZOA, Inc. or Nashville Hadassah.

In addition to helping ensure a bright future for Hadassah, our generous donors have enabled our chapter to receive incentive grants from the Harold Grinspoon Foundation totally $12,500. Five thousand dollars was used to open our endowment fund with the Jewish Federation of Nashville and Middle Tennessee for the benefit of the Nashville Chapter of Hadassah. The balance was sent to National Hadassah.

Programming News - "Everyone Counts!"

Welcome to a New Year of Hadassah! We are thrilled to be your program co-chairs and have put together what we hope will be a year of fun-filled events. Our theme this year will be Everyone Counts!

Every Word Counts – Enjoy a summer read as a community

Sunday, August 11 – 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The home of Natalie Hochman, 111 Abbotsford Dr., Nashville, TN 37215

Looking for something to occupy yourself in the lazy days by the pool? Pick up a copy of The Tattooist of Auschwitz by Heather Morris and read at your leisure. The book is based on a true story and follows the life and heart-wrenching story of the man who was the tattooist in Auschwitz. It is an unforgettable and riveting story. Then, on August 11 at 3:00 p.m., we will meet at the home of Natalie Hochman, and over snacks, discuss the book and learn how Hadassah is working behind the scenes to make sure that the facts of the Holocaust are not erased from our schools. Last year, Hadassah introduced the Never Again Education Act in Congress. This legislation will give teachers across the U.S. the tools and training they need to teach middle and high school students the history of the Holocaust and the consequences of intolerance and hate.

 No cost for this program, but please bring tzedakah to benefit Hadassah's advocacy in government.

Every Bite Counts – Starting the new year as your healthiest self

Sunday, September 8 – 3:30 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.

Diskin Cider, 1235 Martin Street, Nashville, TN 37203

Happy Healthy New Year! An event at Diskin Cider, Nashville's first and only craft cidery. As a group we will have a tour of the new Diskin Cider facility and learn how cider is made and then be able to enjoy a flight of some of the seasonal hard ciders. While we are sipping and tasting, we will discuss healthy habits and commit to becoming our best and healthiest selves at the start of the new year.

Cost is $18 which includes a tour of the facility, a flight of cider, and a donation that will go towards the 360 Degrees of Healing campaign, benefitting the HMO and Hadassah Hospital in Ein Kerem, Israel.

Every Soul Counts –Join the Nashville Jewish Film Festival

The Nashville Jewish Film Festival is held at the end of October and early November

Together we will watch a movie that will be meaningful to our Jewish hearts. Keep an eye out for the date and time of the movie that our Hadassah Chapter will host. We hope to see you all there!

Every Step Counts – Virtual Hadassah Holiday Hike

The weekend of November 28th to December 1st — Here, or there, or anywhere – Indoors or Outdoors

Get outside, take a walk with friends and family, and post a selfie of yourself and put it on our Facebook page to tell everyone what a great organization you are walking for! Anytime over the Thanksgiving holiday is the perfect time to support Hadassah's mission and especially the Youth Aliyah Villages in Israel. Did you know that it is 6,424 miles from Nashville to Jerusalem? Let's try and walk as many miles as we can to reach our goal of helping youth in need. Get a group together or go on a solo meditative walk – you decide!

Cost is $36 and includes a Hadassah hat (to wear on your walk!) and a donation to one of our Youth Aliyah villages in Israel.

Every Dollar Counts – Chai tea (January)

Honoring all our special donors including Keepers of the Gate, Chai Society Members, and Life and Legacy donors. There is still a chance between now and January for you to be one of the honorees! We would love to honor you.

We are looking forward to a wonderful year and hope to see you at our events! Together we all count!

Legislative Update from Advocacy Chair, Erin Coleman

This year the Nashville Chapter of Hadassah made tremendous strides in their advocacy. We aligned ourselves with groups around the Nashville area who deal with the issue of domestic violence and advocated at the state level for laws protecting the victims of such violence. We focused our sights on passing two laws. The first would mandate Intimate Partner Violence training for all doctors working in emergency rooms. It would also create protocols in the emergency rooms to enable doctors to identify domestic violence victims. Unfortunately, our bill faced an uphill climb due to major hospitals not wanting us to codify such training and protocols. We were not able to pass the bill, but we and our coalition partners plan on working together with the hospitals to ensure training and protocols occur for all medical professionals and hospitals around the state. Our second bill would have improved the affidavit all people convicted of domestic assault must sign upon their conviction. This affidavit ensures the defendant and police know what guns the defendant has and that there is an expectation of the weapons being turned in within 48 hours of conviction. This bill also failed due to the pressure our state legislators received from the NRA. We will try again next year. We did have one HUGE success!!! We were able to kill a bill which would have stripped the affidavit described above of all its usefulness. The bill trying to eliminate this important protection to victims was passed by the House. But at the Senate, we were able to work with the sponsor to calendar the bill for the year. This bill is still alive, and we will have to continue our fight next year.

We are planning a Day on the "Local" Hill with Rep. Jim Cooper and Rep. Mark Green. We will discuss our support of the Equality in Medical Research Bill, which Rep. Cooper is a cosponsor, and ways to combat anti-Semitism and human trafficking, I hope you will join us!!!! Details to come.

If issues such as reproductive rights, combating anti-Semitism, common sense gun regulation, and domestic violence are of interest to you and you wish to stay informed about what Hadassah is doing on these fronts, please send your email to Erin at: erin.d.coleman@gmail.com. National Hadassah has a lobbyist in Washington working with other organizations around the US. Visit www.hadassah.org/advocacy to learn more about where Hadassah stands on the issues of our day.
